

Abstract

An aging circuit for an organic electro luminescence device includes a plurality of pixels arranged in a matrix at intersection areas of row lines and column lines and an aging circuit having at least one aging AC voltage source to apply a specific aging AC voltage pulse to the pixels.